BATTERY "B" TO CAMP KNOX
Eighty Men Will Leave for Kentucky August 26.

Orders have been received at Battery B headquarters to leave Columbia Friday August 26, for Camp Knox, Ky. According to Captain Niedermeyer, about eighty men have signified their intentions of going. The camp will last for sixteen days.

Camp Knox has the most ideal artillery range in the United States, the Captain says, and men attending the camp will have ample opportunity to receive instructions in artillery fire. Elaborate plans for the entertainment of men in camp are in force, and every weekend and night while there will be filled with amusements by welfare workers. Among the regular features there are trips to the Mammoth Cave, dances, athletics and trips to Louisville.

The camp is well located and the men while there will live in barracks. Personal equipment such as blankets, packs, and uniforms will be taken from here but all material will be furnished there. The government makes this provision for training camps of the National Guard to save transportation on equipment.

Miss Hedrick Returns to Library.

Miss Blanche Hedrick, who will be in charge of the acquisition department of the University Library beginning September 1, arrived in Columbia yesterday from North Dakota. Miss Hedrick has been secretary of the North Dakota State Library Commission. She is a sister of Dr. E. R. Hedrick.

Tomorrow for the first time in the history of the University during a summer term a mass meeting—a real Missouri mass meeting—will be held. The old Tiger spirit will be there—the spirit which caused these men to sacrifice all and answer the call to the colors. Dr. I. D. Borders, the "fighting parson" who turned down a commission as a chaplain, won a captaincy in the infantry and fought in France, will speak.

Sixty-eight Missouri men gave their all; can you do less than attend this mass meeting tomorrow and honor their memory?

The general public is invited to attend this mass meeting. Citizens of Columbia and visitors will take seats in the balcony as the lower floor of the Auditorium is reserved for the summer school students.
